County Red Cross Units Ship Five Tons of Clothing to Refugees

The second shipment of warm winter clothing and other articles weighing nearly five tons to be sent from the Los Angeles Chapter and its branches of the American Red Cross in the past two months, left Los Angeles a few days ago bound for distribution among war refugees in Great Britain. It was announced by Mrs. Grant Barkdull, local production branch chairman.

Completion of this shipment was made in record time through the efforts of 130 cutters of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union who donated their time each Saturday to cut a total of 13,800 yards of materials at the Los Angeles Production Annex. This material was then worked into the finished garments by hundreds of volunteers throughout the Los Angeles Chapter and branch areas.

The total amount of yardage cut by the volunteer garment workers resulted in the making of 3917 girls' dresses, 760 boys' overalls, 2820 girls' skirts, 2538 women's skirts and 600 boys' shirts, making a total of 11,083 garments that are now on their way to England and other parts of the world where special Red Cross representatives have been sent to see that they reach the proper destination and are properly distributed to women and children in unoccupied territories.

If interested in this humanitarian work, please contact Mrs. Floris McDonald Wright, local branch chairman, at 1941 Carson street, telephone 892; Mrs. Barkdull, local sewing chairman, 1521 Beech street, telephone 375-W, or Mrs. Mina Snider, knitting chairman, 1448 Post avenue. If you cannot sew, there are buttons and snaps to be put on these garments or knitting work to be done. Your help is needed.

Leaving Los Angeles Dec. 26 she visited relatives in Pennsylvania and then journeyed to New York, was disappointed in seeing Niagara Falls at night that it wasn't frozen; and was nearly frozen herself when she viewed the inauguration of Roosevelt for the third term. She returned by the southern route and stopped over in Atlanta and New Orleans, in her travels visiting many historic places.

Ending Series of High School, Principal Elson Appeals for Criticisms of Administration

Following is the 19th and concluding article in the "Know Your Torrance High School" series written especially for this newspaper. . . .

By THOMAS H. ELSON, Principal of Torrance High School

This series of articles has been written and published for the purpose of informing the public and particularly patrons of the high school, of matters concerning the high school, its aims, objectives, program, activities and methods of operation. We have at times indicated certain problems in the solution of which we need your help. We hope that as you have read these articles you have made mental notes of suggestions and criticisms you would like to make to us. The theme of this final article is an appeal to make these criticisms known.

New English Class at Adult Evening School

"I like to receive letters, but I hate to write them," is a common statement. Are you one of those people who like to receive letters but hate to write them? Perhaps if you were to analyze your reasons for disliking to write letters you would find that the biggest reason is that you find it difficult to express your ideas and observations on paper.

The newly organized class in Everyday English—Written and Spoken, which meets from 7 to 9 o'clock every Wednesday evening in Room 208 at Torrance Evening high school, is the answer to your problems. In this class, taught by Mrs. Margaret F. Rogers, you can learn correct grammatical usage and construction, syllabication, proper punctuation, and how to increase your vocabulary.

For those who wish to improve their spoken English, the class offers an opportunity to learn correct pronunciation of words and how to use them most effectively in sentences.

MISCONCEPTIONS ABOUT THE CHANGE OF LIFE

THE entire term is a misconception. There is no stationary period in life. The periods of female life can be classified as infancy, puberty, adolescence, maturity, which is the child bearing period, menopausal and post-menopausal, which gradually extends on into old age and sometimes senility.

Medical science has now discovered certain laws of nature which enable us to guide female life through infancy, puberty and adolescence.

In the light of our knowledge of natural law, every girl has the right to arrive at maturity qualified to carry on. Because the major part of the function of reproduction is performed by women and because every function and almost every pathological process of those organs are accompanied by some degree of pain and hemorrhage, this period is crowded by rapid changes as well as turmoil and misunderstanding. A woman needs to know her requirements and also her limitations. She has a right to be protected from the hazard of pregnancy, which in the past has taken a greater toll of life than war.

It is the duty of a DOCTOR OF MEDICINE who cares for a woman during her child bearing period to protect her from injury, infection and new growths, benign or malignant. If this is done, she will arrive at the menopause free from pathology and able to continue her life in comfort. The greatest contribution of humanity has been hers, "New Life."
